Congratulations to those 4-H'ers who took part in the County 4-H Public Speaking program last Wednesday evening. Over 150 4-H'ers, parents, and friends attended the event. Top winners in the county program were: Janet Smith, Brett Marston, Suzette Ranson, Mike Roach, Tambra Hamlet, Michael McCoy, Jane Guill, Blair Smith, Tamara Nash and David Caldwell. Mr. Jim Pugh, of Farmers National Bank, awarded trophies to each of these top winners.

The County Junior Demonstration Contest will be held Saturday morning, April 22, at the Appomattox Elementary School. This program will involve 4-H'ers 9-13 years of age. Winners in the various categories in the county program will go on to compete in an Area program at Brookville High School on April 29.

Mike McCoy, Terri and Tamara Nash helped provide special entertainment for the Dark Fired Tobacco Awards Banquet held this past Tuesday at the WOW Building in Appomattox. Events such as this banquet provide great opportunities for our 4-H'ers to display their talents.

State 4-H Congress will be held next July 9 thru 12. The week long educational conference on the VPI & SU Campus in Blacksburg will cost $35.00 plus transportation this year. Senior 4-H'ers should begin now to work on demonstrations or illustrated talks for the District Contest, April 15.

Wildlife Feed Patch forms are due by March 17. Please try to get them in on time. The seed for this wildlife conservation program is provided by the Virginia Game Commission.

4-Hers of the Week: Our Public Speaking announcers - Susan Parris, Leigh Ann Duncan, Edward McCoy.

ADVICE TO PARENTS OF PRE-SCHOOLERS

Small children are not always able to put into words how they feel about things their parents and grandparents do. Mrs. Ruby Harris, Specialist in Family Relations at the University of California, has some advice from pre-schoolers. I would like to share this advice with you this week.

(1) Please don't walk so fast when we go places together - my legs are short and I can't keep up with your long legs. Besides, there are many places I need to see and investigate along the way.

(2) My attention span is short. Lots of things last too long like shopping and visiting and sometimes even the games you play with me.

(3) When I'm frightened of a big dog or something, please pick me up and hold me. That helps me more than telling me you won't let anything hurt me.

(4) Sometimes it would be nice if you would talk to me and explain why we have to do things or tell me what is going to happen ahead of time when it is something new to me. Then I'll know what to do. Sometimes you might even just have a conversation with me about anything. It makes me feel an important part of my family to carry on a conversation with them.

(5) I have trouble sitting still in the car even when you keep telling me to do so, because it's not very interesting to look at the back of the seat or that dashboard thing. I'm too little to see what's outside and sit down the way you want me to.

(6) Please decide whether I understand what you want me to do before you get mad at me for not doing something you expected me to do.

(7) Please give me time to do things for myself. I'm slow and have not learned how to put my clothes on yet, much less do it fast. What's all the hurry about anyway?

(8) Please remember that I am a person in the room and not a piece of furniture when you tell secrets or private things to other big people. How do I know what should not be repeated?

(9) When you or daddy eat certain foods, talk about being afraid of the water, not liking school or afraid of dentists, hospitals and doctors, why do you then expect me to be different from you.

Hint for the week: To toast coconut spread it in a shallow pan or pie pan. Please in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. Watch carefully so that the coconut does not burn and stir with a fork to toast evenly. It takes a very few minutes to toast, 3-5.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Tomato Aspic

4 cups tomato juice
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery leaves
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 small bag leaves
4 whole cloves
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 tablespoons lemon juice, fresh, frozen, or canned
1 cup finely cut celery

Combine tomato juice, onion, celery, celery leaves, sugar, salt, bay leaves, cloves. Simmer 5 minutes. Strain. Soften gelatin in cold water; add to hot tomato mixture. Add lemon juice. Chill until partially set.

Chill in 1½ qt . or 8-inch ring mold till firm.

Unmold; fill center with 2 cups shredded cabbage seasoned with salt, pepper, sugar, lemon juice, and mayonnaise. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Note: I do not strain mixture, but remove cloves and bay leaves. Then I put mixture (½ at a time) in blender and place in mold.

ST. LUKE

I will look up to the heavens for whence cometh my help. This seemed to be the words of the sizable group that attended regular preaching services at the St. Luke Baptist Church Sunday, March 5, 1978 with standing the landscapes being covered in the beautiful white snow.

Rev. J. E. McLaughlin, the pastor, was present and gave a great message, taken from St. Luke 11:11-18. A beautiful picture of the ten that were healed and only one returned to thank God for the healing. Rev. McLaughlin's subject was "Are We Grateful". The spirit was high. Young people stood up to testify that they were grateful. The communion was very uplifting and was conducted by Rev. McLaughlin. The offering was good. Many visitors were present.

There will be a song program by the Gospel Travelers of Prospect at 6 p.m. at the St. Luke's Church on March 12, sponsored by the Youth in Action for Christ. All are invited to come.

The sick of the community are out and on the go again.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Canada are celebrating their 57th year of marriage on March 6, 1978

Cute Action: by Little Miss Cataque A. Canada, 4 years old.

She went with her grandaddy, Samuel Canada to the store to shop for her grandma, Anna. After some items were picked and put in the basket, he forgot one item and first could not think and asked Cataque if she knew. Not thinking that she would know. She looked at the clerk and said, "Flop, Flop, Fiz, Fix. Oh what a relief it is; then the clerk went and picked up the answer to that. Alka Seltzer was what her grandma wanted. All in the store were so amused. Now when she goes to the store she will hand the memo to the clerk and proceed to go and gather up everything that the memo contained and place them on the counter. And the clerk is so pleased and amused at the sharp memory of a little child. She is a great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Canada.

Mrs. Louise Canada is at home after helping friends that are ill a while in Concord and one in Rustburg.

CPR PROGRAM GIVEN AT JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The Appomattox Junior Woman's Club met February 28th at the Farmers National Bank, Triangle Plaza Branch. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Ray Noble, Training Officer for the Appomattox County Rescue Squad, shown in photo with Mrs. William Davis, Chairman, Health Department.

Mr. Noble spoke on the CPR rescue procedure. Especially impressive was the recent incident in our county which included the bringes; CPR on record in the nation. The Junior Woman's Club is pleased to support this fine effort in our county.

Two ACHS Students To Represent DECA At Conference

Two ACHS students will represent the Appomattox County Distributive Education chapter at the annual Distributive Education Clubs of America State Leadership Conference to be held at The Hotel Roanoke in Roanoke, Va. on March 10-12. They are Linwood Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Elliott of Rt. 2, Appomattox, and Tony Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin, Rt. 4, Appomattox.

Linwood, who is the treasurer of the ACHS DECA Chapter, will represent Appomattox as a participant in the General Merchandise event. He won the honor of competing by placing second in the same event on a Regional level. Tony, who is the parliamentarian of the ACHS DECA Chapter, will serve as a voting delegate. He won this honor through his active participation in DECA activities and his classroom work.

While attending the conference Linwood and Tony will join approximately 600 delegates from over 200 Virginia DECA chapters in electing State Officers and in planning work programs for the coming year for local chapters. Contest finalists from twenty-four Virginia DECA districts will compete for state awards and the honor of representing Virginia in the National DECA Career Development Conference to be held in Washington, D.C.
